Life360 isn't your typical tech company, and that's by design. Our users are everyday families, not early adopters, and our team reflects that same diversity: a mix of cultures, languages, backgrounds, and unconventional paths.

We believe diverse ideas and experiences build stronger, more creative teams, and better products. We're committed to a culture where every voice is heard, authenticity is welcomed, and our people reflect the communities we serve.

Learn about us. No need to be an expert, just curious. Check out our app or visit our website including our Investor Relations. Visit our LinkedIn to learn more about #LifeAtLife360.

Structure your answers using STAR method: Situation, Task, Action, Result. Real examples tell us more than hypotheticals.

Be curious and ask questions. We want a conversation, not a performance.

Be yourself. We're hiring a person, not a polished resume.

We interview on Zoom. Test your audio and video beforehand, and install any updates. On a phone or tablet? Download the free Zoom app rather than joining via browser.

Interviewing with AI

We are building an AI native company where AI is an integral part of how we build and operate. AI tool usage during interviews varies by role. You may be asked to demonstrate proficiency with AI tools, discuss how you leverage AI, or complete interview exercises without AI assistance. Your Recruiter will provide clear guidance as you move through the interview process.

Undisclosed use of AI not previously discussed with or approved by your Recruiter may impact your candidacy.

Example Interview Questions

- What are a couple of use cases where you have used AI effectively?
- How do you feel about an environment that embraces AI?

All of our interview will include a BrightHire notetaker, an AI platform that records and transcribes our interviews. Review our disclaimer on how BrightHire will be used. Opt out here.
