Get to know us.

Our journey began with Sam Walton, who opened his first small discount retailer in Rogers, Arkansas. Over the years, we've expanded to include thousands of Walmart stores nationwide and internationally. Sam, an innovator with a mission to save people money so they can live better, continued to innovate by opening our first wholesale business, known today as Sam's Club, 21 years after the first Walmart.

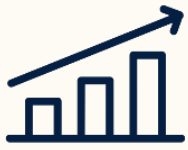

Today, our innovation continues, providing a seamless shopping experience online, in our stores, and at Sam's Clubs. Beyond retail, we aim to create opportunities and deliver value to customers, members, and communities worldwide.

"...There's no substitute for hard work, integrity, and a dedication to leaving this world a little better place than when we came into it."

- Sam Walton, Founder, Walmart Inc.

- Doug McMillon, President and CEO, Walmart, Inc.

What to expect in the interview process

Our interview process differs role to role, but these are some of the typical ways we interact with you throughout the process

Hiring Manager Interview

During this interview, the hiring manager will describe the role and assess technical and functional skills for the role.

Team and Leadership Interviews

Can consist of 2 or more rounds of virtual or onsite interviews and may include video discussions, exercises, case studies, or design challenges. These could be conducted by the hiring manager, team members or cross functional business partners.

Receive Final Decision

Your recruiter will reach back with final decision and share feedback, if any.

*Based on the role and level of the job, there may be additional interviews or assessments.

Tips to successfully prepare for your interview

Learn more

Walmart is the largest retailer in the world! Read more about us on <https://corporate.walmart.com/> and follow Walmart and Sam's Club on LinkedIn.

Showcase your strengths

Go through your profile to showcase relevant work experiences that highlight your achievements and skills to talk about during the interview.

Be specific in your responses

Use the STAR (Situation – Task – Action – Result) framework to be succinct and clear in your responses. Learn more about utilizing the STAR method here.

Ask questions

Seek clarification if needed to provide better answers. Ask questions about the company culture, team dynamics, values and compensation to ensure they align with your aspirations.

Understand the role

Review the job ad and ask your recruiters for more details on the responsibilities, competencies and skills required to be successful in the role.

Get to know the interviewer

Understand who you would be potentially speaking to during your interview and how their work aligns with the role you are interviewing for.

Plan ahead

If your interview is virtual be sure to test the interview platform, audio and camera ahead of time. Ensure you have allocated time before the interview to be comfortable.

Share feedback

Keep sharing feedback with your recruiter on how we could better the experience for you and others. Look out for a survey in the coming weeks on your experience applying with us!

All the best!

Reach out to your recruiter for any questions. We are here to help make this experience seamless! Please let us know how we're doing by completing this survey.

Please ask your recruiter if you require any reasonable workplace accommodation during the interview process. You can also ask your interviewers for specific requests like “turn on closed captioning”.

Walmart Inc. is an Equal Opportunity Employer – By Choice. We believe we are best equipped to help our associates, customers and the communities we serve live better when we really know them. That means understanding, respecting and valuing diversity- unique styles, experiences, identities, ideas and opinions – while being inclusive of all people.
